Q. In any of the well-control training you had prior to the Macondo, did any of that well-control training address a situation like the Macondo where you had a failed BOP, other than, drill a relief well?

A. No. The well-control training we had did not address the Macondo-type situation.

Q. It basically gave you criteria and procedures for shutting in the BOP, correct?

A. Shutting in the BOP and removing the influx safely.
