

Attached is our heat transfer analysis for the case of 10,000 bpd flow with 0.1 kts current. Please let me know if there are additional images that would be helpful to you in assessing the formation of hydrates.

Also attached is our updated run log. We are working on the 20,000 and 70,000 bpd cases now.

Regards,
Chris

Christopher J. Matice, Ph.D., P.E. (*)
Principal
Stress Engineering Services, Inc.
5380 Courseview Dr.
Mason, OH 45040
Phone: 513-336-6701
Fax: 513-336-6817

Attached is our heat transfer analysis for the case of 10,000 bpd flow with 0.1 kts current. Please let me know if there are additional images that would be helpful to you in assessing the formation of hydrates.

Also attached is our updated run log. We are working on the 20,000 and 70,000 bpd cases now.

CONFIDENTIAL

BP-HZN-2179MDL06109054
BPD487-295417

TREX 010647.0002