

DR. TUNNELL CONCLUDES NO SIGNIFICANT HARM TO FISH AND SHELLFISH POPULATIONS

- Examined almost exclusively coastal species of fish, crabs, shrimp and oysters and not offshore species
- Consideration of population level effects over large areas obscures potential harm to fish and crustaceans
- Inappropriate statistical methods used for identifying significant impacts to populations