

State Findings on Health Effects

“Of 1550 seafood samples . . . any chemicals detected were below levels that could potentially threaten the public’s health.”

LDHH Seafood Safety
Surveillance Report
TRES 232452.0001

“Monitoring data has not shown any exceedances of any state or federal air quality standards since the oil spill began.”

LDEQ Air Monitoring
Fact Sheet, 7/13/2010
TRES 240362.0001

“None of our monitoring data would indicate that they pose a significant health threat. Data from the DEP monitoring network are not showing any abnormal results at this time.”

FDEP Air Quality Status
Report, 7/16/2010
TRES 240124.0001

“Reviews of the data indicate there were no increases attributable to oil in the monitored illnesses in the coastal area over the time of the spill.”

MSDH Sept 2011
Morbidity Report
TRES 240198.0001

“Ozone and particle data are consistent with typical values that occur during this time of year and no obvious influence due to the oil spill is evident.”

FDEP Air Quality Status
Report, 7/16/2010
TRES 240124.0001