

A dysfunctional leadership team in a high risk operation would increase the potential for a process safety disaster.