Up to you Craig but Greg Buis is one of your folks who was with us from the start. Biggest challenge in beginning was 12M CAP while all PFPs and WFPs had to count against fund. RP celebrating fund so we go was brand new and novel solution.

Steve,
 And one final note...the capacity that includes the solvency of the RP during a SONS is paramount. The claims process alone would have eaten our lunch had BP and eventually the GCCF not stepped up to the plate. Response costs to date have blown through the $12b ceiling with no end in sight and our OSLTF constraints are not going to answer the mail in a 21st century SONS absent a solvent and cooperative RP. pifz

Admiral:

Attached is the most recent version of the table of contents for the FOSC report, with potential contributors listed for various sections. We are definitely open to, and seeking, input on both the subjects to cover and the people to talk to for input on each of the sections. This is one of the areas we hope to go over with you tomorrow.
